Our Promise to You

TaskKlock's Promise	Advantage to Workers	Advantage to Business
TaskKlock is based on real-time data, not end-of-pay period guesswork.	Line workers don't have to feel guilty about making up times. Admin workers don't have to harass line workers for completed time cards.	Your people spend more time on productive work, while you get more accurate information.
We will continue our tradition of refining TaskKlock and making it more user friendly.	Use a proven management tool and not a frustrating puzzle.	Spend your time building your business, not trying to become a software wizard.
TaskKlock gives you job specific labor and material information.	Workers are aware that their actions have cost implications.	Your bids will generate more profit.
TaskKlock gives immediate objective worker performance information.	Workers can compare their actual hours to bids and understand their role in the company.	You have an objective tool for rewarding and coaching workers.
TaskKlock demonstrates that worker effort is linked directly to the bottom line.	Workers are likely to move from task to task without down time between productive tasks.	Workers spend more time on billable tasks and develop ways to streamline non-billable tasks.
Free up your time to focus on strategic business decisions.	Workers can self-manage their time and prioritize jobs without your constant oversight.	You spend less time wondering what your employees are doing, and more time on those important projects.
We design the software for ease of use.	Workers quickly adopt and feel comfortable entering accurate information into an ATM-like touch screen.	Job cost information is gathered accurately with minimal disruption to your operation. Maximize worker time on billable projects.
TaskKlock has no hidden, recurring costs.	Workers don't have to worry about asking for support since technical support is free.	It's easy to amortize your investment in TaskKlock. You receive free, high quality support to keep your business running smoothly.
We will preload your information into TaskKlock.	Reduced setup hassles and easier training.	Lower setup costs. We do it so you don't have to. Immediate, accurate job cost information to help manage the profitability of your business.
TaskKlock provides complete training for administrative staff.	Your staff is comfortable using TaskKlock and is able to generate valuable job cost and payroll information.	Reduced startup hassles and reduced training time.
You will speak with a knowledgeable person who helps you solve the problem.	The problem is resolved quickly with minimal frustration and gets employees back to work. We use remote computer access to fix your problem and get you running.	Our high level of service allows you to focus your energy on more critical matters.
